Dear Parents/Carers,

Twitter Account @KilligrewSchool

As you may recall, we launched our Twitter account in September 2017. Since this time, we have been able to show our followers many lovely events which have happened in our school; for example, school trip photos, Remembrance Day assemblies and global art work.

Because our account is so impressive, we would like to share it with the wider community. We have therefore decided to make the account open and not show children's faces or identify them in any way. This is common practice for many schools and it will mean that you can all celebrate the achievements of our school as well as receiving timely updates from the school office.

Of course, the account will be subject to stringent monitoring and we will ensure that any followers who do not follow the school's Code of Conduct are blocked immediately. We also continue to emphasise that, whilst we welcome positive comments and feedback, the account is not a medium for communication between parents and the school. Our Code of Conduct is available from the Junior Office on request.

The Twitter account will be available for all to view on the Twitter tab on our website from the 3rd January 2018.

A guide to Twitter's own safety rules is referenced here:

If you have any questions about the information noted in this letter please contact the school via admin@killigrew.herts.sch.uk

Yours sincerely,
Mrs Karen Morley
Deputy Head Teacher
